Mr Grinling's Diary entry

3.7.24

Dear diary

Today was a fantastic day. First I had Rice Krispies and it was yummy.

Next I read my book and I like reading my book. After I had my milk snack and I spilt it on my t-shirt.

Then I had my lunch I had chicken meatballs and that was yummy too.

Finally I read my book back to the light house.

Learning Objective: To write a recount of our class trip.

On Thursday 11th July our class visited the most amazing place, Poole Quay!
~~Next~~ <sup>First</sup> We approached the coach and sat in our seats; yuuuhh...
For a while then we looked for stuff on our Spy Sheet. After that we walked to the boat, on the boat we got to see the waves splash and the gulls fly. Then we saw Brown Sea island & were I saw lots of rocks on the wall.
Then to green island. On that island we saw Sammie the Seal pop his head up out of the water. After that island we saw Fursay island in Fursay island, there is oil inside of it. It is the to to to to

Carter Catches a Jackpot!

The Wild Words have been spread. 1922 November 4th. Howard Carter's discovery has become the most exciting one in history! With 58 people he successfully discovered Tutankhamun's tomb in the Valley of the Kings. Howard Carter explains that when he was just 17 he visited Egypt and that has been what inspired him on being an archaeologist. Him and his crew haven't just dug in them to they dug in themselves for courage.

One day a great discovery was unveiled by a young boy Hussein. His one small step made a big difference. Running in a rush Hussein explained that the royal, ancient piece of artwork was still real only a few
